Subject: Exemption Exam for Epidemiology/Biostatistics

Students who have taken a course in epidemiology and a course in biostatistics within the last three years, and have written a critique of a published epidemiologic or clinical study as part of their course work or program, are eligible to apply for an exemption. Students who believe they are eligible for an exemption must do the following:

- Inform the Course Director, Dr. Olaf Dammann, by email that they would like to apply for an exemption. This email must be sent to Dr. Dammann no later than August 4, 2017. Dr. Dammann's email address is olaf.dammann@tufts.edu.
- Students will take a multiple-choice question exam at a time and location that will be arranged by the Office of Educational Affairs. Students must score at least 70% on the exemption exam.

Dr. Dammann will notify students if they have been granted an exemption. Pending notification from Dr. Dammann, students must comply with the course work.
